ADRIANOPOLE DYNAMITER REPORTED ABLAZE

Merciless Bombardment of Allies Sets Fire to Many Sections of City

War in Balkans Resumed With More Intensity; Powers Are Determined

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Feb. 4.—Some quarters of Adrianople are in flames as the result of the bombardment by the Bulgarians and Servians, which was resumed with more intensity today, according to advices received here from the front.

ADVANCE TO CHARGE. LONDON, Feb. 4.—A full division of Bulgarian infantry advanced to the attack of Adrianople this morning under cover of a fierce bombardment, according to a news agency dispatch from Sofia. The result of the assault is not yet known.

TERRIFIC BOMBARDMENT. LONDON, Feb. 4.—A terrific bombardment of the forts around Adrianople was begun last evening by the Bulgarians and Servians surrounding the city to the number of over 100,000. At the moment of the conclusion of the armistice at 7 o'clock siege guns and field guns from various points commanding the forts opened fire. Not even the residential portion of the city was spared.

There is considerable difference of opinion as to how long the fortresses will be able to hold out. One dispatch from Constantinople today, which reported that the heavy cannonade continued throughout the night, concluded with the prophecy made by the Bulgarian staff that two weeks would suffice for the besiegers to force the Turks to capitulate.

PROLONGED DEFENSE. Military men, however, who know something about the several lines of forts which form the defense of Adrianople look for a prolonged defense. This opinion apparently prevails.

'Hello' Dropped in Phone Conversation

Exclusive Evanston Objects to Commonplace Greeting by Wire.

EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 4.—Many residents of Evanston have placed the stamp of disapproval on the word "hello" as a salutation over the telephone. Girls in the telephone exchange say that the word is considered "vulgar."

"Good morning," "good afternoon" or "good evening" have taken the place of the shorter and handier word as a form of greeting.

"It is seldom that I ever hear a 'hello' any more," said a girl in the telephone manager's office last night. "In the course of a day I call the homes of many society women, and in almost every instance I am answered with the greeting 'good afternoon' or 'how do you do?'"

DYNAMITER TELLS OF CRIME

Confesses to Sending Bomb That Hurled Woman to Her Death

Long History of Murder Is Told by Janitor at Police Inquiry

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—John Paul Farrell, a janitor, confessed today that he sent to Bernard Herrera last Sunday the bomb which resulted in the death of Mrs. Herrera and serious injury to Herrera and Miss Fughtman, a boarder.

Then Farrell astonished the police by calmly reciting that he sent the bomb which killed Mrs. Helen Taylor, a year ago, adding that Mrs. Taylor was his daughter. Next Farrell solved the mystery surrounding the sending of a bomb last year to Judge Otto Rosalsky. Finally he explained the death of "Kid" Walker, slain in 1887. He slew Mrs. Taylor, he said, because she was his daughter and had gone wrong. "Kid" Walker was killed, he declared, by a man named Lestranger, because Walker had caused Mrs. Taylor's downfall.

The attempt on Judge Rosalsky's life, he added, was made because the judge had sentenced a criminal, named, to 20 years' imprisonment. The bomb was sent to the judge by a man known to Farrell only as "Tony."

THREATENED DISMISSAL. Herrera's life was sought, Farrell said, because Herrera had said he would discharge him from his job as janitor. Farrell was employed at the apartment house where Herrera is superintendent.

Before the astonished detectives the maker of deadly bombs constructed a dummy infernal machine, explained how he made it, what he put into it, how it operated and what the damage would be to the person who should open it. The Taylor and Rosalsky bombs, he said, were entrusted to the mails.

In the case of Herrera, Farrell said, he had crept upstairs when Herrera was away and had placed the bomb, wrapped in a cardboard box, on the landing outside his door. He insisted, however, that he intended only to scare the family.

ARRESTED AS WITNESS. Arrested yesterday as a "material witness," Farrell confessed only after an all-night grilling. He held out till dawn when the detectives sent for Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty and the prisoner went over with him what he told the others. The construction of the dummy bomb followed.

Farrell told the police he began the

St. Joe City Dads Refuse Maine Relic

Mayor Asked for Admiral Sigbee's Bath Tub, but Council Won't Pay Freight.

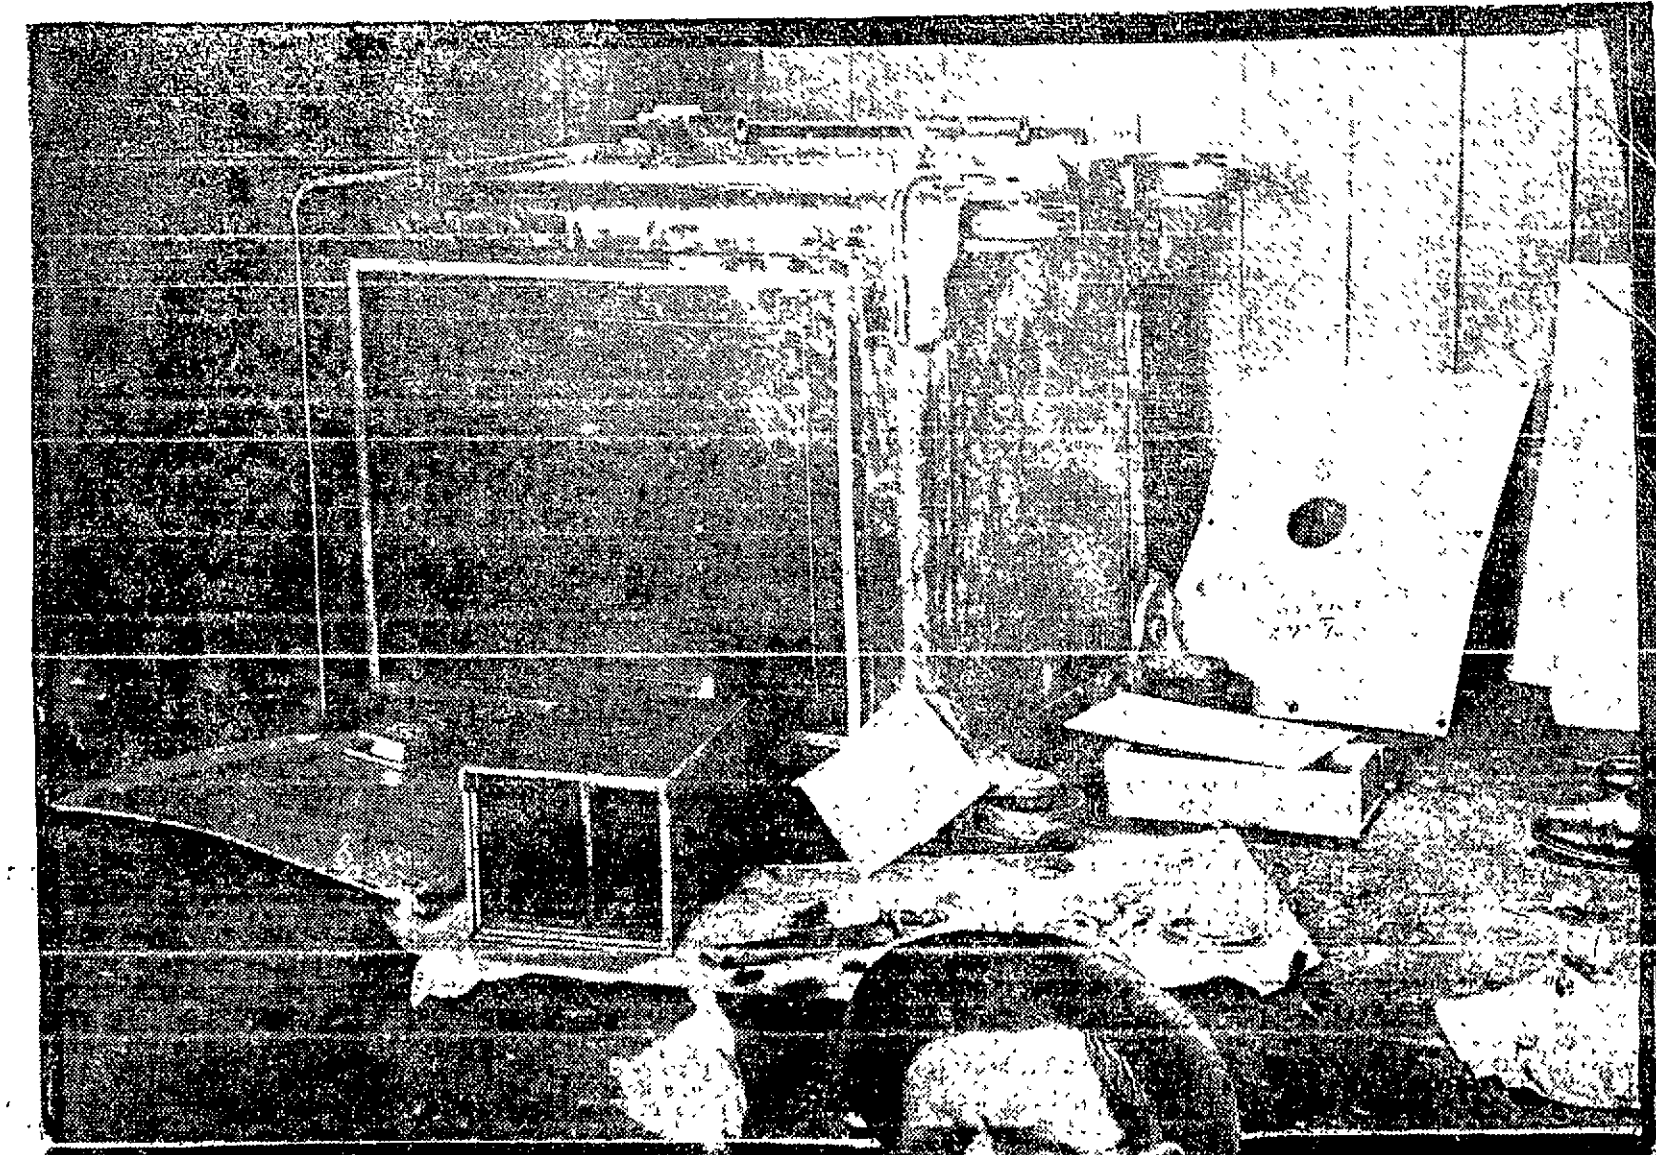

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 4.—The city council refused today to appropriate money for bringing Admiral Sigbee's bath tub, relic of the battle of Maine, from Urbana, Ohio, to St. Joseph. Several weeks ago the Navy Department at Washington announced that the bath tub, which had been rejected by Urbana, would be presented to the first city making application. Mayor Pfeiffer immediately asked that the tub be awarded to St. Joseph and that the end of the day he was advised that St. Joseph should receive it. Then the mayor asked the council to pay for shipping the tub. The aldermen refused, saying that the mayor's action already had brought the city into undesirable notoriety.

Steamer Goes Aground; Life-Savers Helpless

High Seas Prevent Rescuers From Taking Crew From the Vessel.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Norwegian Steamship Nicholas Curcio went aground today on Long Beach off the southeast shore of Long Island during thick weather shortly after midnight. Life savers were unable to come out in the night. The vessel is a freighter. It is believed no carries no passengers, and was bound from the West Indies with a cargo of sugar.

Oakland Autoist Badly Hurt in Bad Accident

HAYWARD, Feb. 4.—E. C. Burpee, his car. He failed to negotiate the turn and the machine ran off the road, smashing into a telegraph pole. Burpee was thrown out, landing on his face, and was rendered unconscious. In this condition he was discovered in the road. The injured man was conveyed to the inn, where he received medical attention. He was afterward taken to his home. The full extent of his injuries are not yet known.

Market Value of 'Change Seats Decline $50,000,000

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A decline of more than $50,000,000 in the aggregate market value of the seats on the New York Stock Exchange is one measure of the depths of Wall street's gloom. The latest value of a seat was made for $48,000, which is precisely one-half of the high record reached in 1909. On the assumption that $48,000 represents the present marketable value of a seat, the total shrinkage, on paper at least, of the 11,000 seats on the Stock Exchange is $52,800,000. Dwindling business is the explanation of the decline in seat prices. Wall street has had three lean years in the business of buying and selling stocks and bonds. Business last year averaged less than 450,000 shares of stock a day, where as in 1905 the average was 900,000.

State Legislature Adjourns For Recess of Thirty Days

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—The fortieth Legislature finished today the work specified by the constitution for accomplishment in the first session of 30 days and adjourned until 10 o'clock Monday, March 10. The amended corporation tax bill was the only measure of importance passed out under the emergency clause, but all records were broken by the introduction of nearly 4,000 bills.

Injunction Prevents Signing of Contract

Public Service Commission Is Balked in Plans for Subway.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Thirty minutes before the public service commission was to have met this afternoon to sign the operating contracts for New York's new $20,000,000 subway, an injunction was served, prohibiting the commission from taking action. The injunction was obtained by Clarence J. Green, counsel for William Randolph Hearst, who has been fighting for a municipal operating plant.

Society Women Aid Garment Workers

Help Hundreds of Strikers to Picket Shops Affected by Walkout.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—Several society women joined hundreds of strikers today in picketing the forty shops affected by the walkout of 5,000 garment workers to enforce demands for an increase in wages and better working conditions. The women pickets were warned by the strike leaders not to resort to violence.

WIDOW'S DEATH SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

Widow Found With Her Wrist Slashed; Rooms Filled With Gas

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—The discovery of Mrs. Laura Woodruff, a well-to-do widow and lessee of the Woodruff apartments, 1224 Taylor street, lying dead in bed in a gas-filled room and with her left wrist slashed by a razor, has given the police something of a mystery to work upon. Detective Harrison and Deputy Coroner Tom Gavin, who are investigating, are not certain as to whether the woman committed suicide or was slain by some unknown individual. When R. Roberts, the janitor, and Miss Ella Ryan, the caretaker in the building, forced their way into her room at 9 o'clock this morning they were forced to go back by the choking gas fumes which filled the air. On finding that she was dead the police were notified. When Deputy Coroner Gavin arrived he discovered that the woman's left wrist had received two deep slashes and was bound around with a towel. In her right hand lay a book which she had evidently been reading. In the kitchenette adjoining the three burners on the gas stove were turned on.

PIEDMONT LIFTS EMBARGO ON GARBAGE

Pays $75 Debt and Piles Piles of Refuse Are Removed

For the past three days exclusive Piedmont, the city of millionaires, has been without means of disposing of its garbage and the scavengers have been forced to return with wagons piled high with refuse matter. There was a reason. Piedmont had not paid its garbage bill. Some months ago Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus met Mayor Hugh Craig of Piedmont and asked him why he did not pay his bill for the use of the Oakland wharves for garbage disposal and for using the sewers of Oakland. Craig replied, according to Baccus, that the only use he had for Oakland was to purchase his groceries there and that he had no intention of paying the bill. Baccus replied that he would do what he could to change the views of Piedmont in this matter. He had the Oakland city council pass a resolution during the city's absence to account $2075 from Piedmont, $2000 for two years' contract bills and $75 for the rate.

HOUSES TO TRACK MEN

Police Dogs Will be Used by Posse in Search for Bold Robbers

Finger Prints Left on Door of Strong Box May Be Needed Clew

SAFE blowers robbed the Western Pacific safe at Hayward in the early hours this morning. They blew the outer door of the strong box with nitro-glycerine, drilled through the thin inner door and robbed the safe of its entire contents.

Their work was done in so deliberate and professional a manner that no sounds were heard by the nightwatchman on duty in the town, nor by late dancers, who passed back and forth past the depot until after 1 o'clock. Further, the yegmen made a clean getaway, leaving not the slightest clew as to who they were or where they have fled.

BLOODHOUNDS ON TRAIL. Bloodhounds will be used in an endeavor to track the bold crackmen. This is the second time this safe was blown, the first robbery occurring about a year ago. The thieves only secured one cent at that time. Their luck was better this morning, however, although the haul did not exceed $25 and a suit of clothes, which was hanging in the depot and belonged to Cyril Jasmin, the agent.

The only possible trace of the yegmen which may help in their detection consists of several finger prints which were left on the polished surface of the safe, when the thieves were preparing to drill into the inner lock.

ARRESTS EXPECTED SOON. Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares investigated the job this morning and while the Sheriff's office here is reluctant to admit what the plans are, suspicion is entertained against certain individuals and arrests may soon follow.

The robbery was discovered this morning by M. B. Rose, assistant agent of the Western Pacific at Hayward, who found the front door of the depot broken open and the safe lying flat on the floor with both doors open and the contents gone. He sent in an alarm and the town was soon alerted. The forces of San Leandro and Rameau of Hayward immediately took up the investigation.

TOOLS ARE STOLEN. It was discovered that the burglars had first broken into the tool house of the Civil Improvement Club, and had there secured crowbars and a sledge with which to do their burglary.

From the fact that the safe is too large for one man to handle, it is assumed by the officers investigating the robbery that at least two men were implicated. There have been an unusual number of hoboes and vagrants loitering about Hayward of late and some suspicion is entertained that the yegmen concealed themselves among these while they studied out the plans of their job. Because of the late dancers who passed by the depot until after 1 o'clock, the officers believe the robbers did their work some time between 2 and 4 o'clock this morning.

Another lead which may develop into a clew of some consequence is furnished by Agent Spear of the Southern Pacific, who observed two suspicious looking characters loitering about the Southern Pacific depot all afternoon and early evening. Their actions were such as to finally prompt Spear to ask the company's officers to order the fellows away. It is now thought that these same men, finding the Southern Pacific company on guard transferred their activity to the Western Pacific later in the night.

Girl Saves Brother From Death in Canal

Plunges Into Water and Holds Boy's Head Above Surface.

VENICE, Feb. 4.—Twelve-year-old Dorothy Bathone was hailed today as Venice's youngest heroine by her plucky rescue of her brother Philip from the Venetian canal. The 10-year-old boy had fallen from a bridge. The boy was helpless in the water because of a previous injury to one of his legs. Dorothy plunged after him and managed to turn his head above the surface of the water until assistance arrived.

MAKER OF BOMB TELLS OF CRIME

Confesses Sending Explosive That Killed Woman in Big Apartment House

Herrera bomb last Thursday night, completed it Friday and kept it in his room till Sunday. Unmoved by the knowledge that his recital might send him to the electric chair, the bomber placidly took pencil and paper and drew numerous diagrams explaining how he had planned the mechanism. He began work on the bomb after Mrs. Herrera had notified him that a negro had been engaged to take his place. In a short bit of pipe he placed a bottle of nitroglycerin, holding it in position by nails and paper. A hole had been burned in the cork with a red-hot hair pin. A percussion cap, a small spring, a steel button, a box, wrapping paper and twine completed the make-up of the infernal machine.

SPRING SNAPS BUTTON. The spring was so arranged as to snap the button sharply against the percussion cap when the box was opened.

"Unless this man is crazy," Dougherty said, "we have caught the most dastardly criminal that has come to the attention of the police in fifty years."

The bomb which caused the death of Mrs. Herrera resulted in the probable loss of her husband's eyesight, and the serious injury of Miss Fugate, a boarder. Like the agent, Mrs. Taylor and Judge Rosalesky, it was inclosed in a pasteboard box. Herrera, seeing no address on the wrapper asked his wife if it was hers. She opened it.

Mrs. Taylor, or Grace Walker, was killed a year and a day ago. The infernal instrument was made up to resemble a box of candy and she was instantly killed. Until today the reason why her death was sought remained unknown.

ATTEMPT ON JUDGE. The attempt on Judge Rosalesky's life was made when interest was focused on the thirty-year sentence imposed by the judge on Brandt, Mortimer Schiff's valet. The instrument was sent to the jurist's home and placed on the library table. He did not like its appearance and noticed the bureau of combustibles. Inspector Owen opened it in the judge's library and by the explosion his hand was maimed and his face and shoulders lacerated.

"Mrs. Walker, who Farrell declares was the betrayer of his daughter, was shot down on the Bowery nearly twenty-six years ago. Deputy Commissioner Dougherty said today he would try to solve the old mystery.

LICHTENSTEINS IN DIVORCE COURT

Attorney George Knight Makes Long Argument Favoring Husband.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Superior Judge Graham's court room was packed to the doors throughout the morning with a crowd of men and women who listened with great interest to the arguments of Attorney George A. Knight, counsel for Nat Lichtenstein, who is suing his wife, Anita Lichtenstein, for divorce. He characterized Mrs. Lichtenstein's charge of conspiracy against her husband, his brother, Attorney Milton Nathan and his nephew as absurd. He argued that would have been foolish for the Lichtensteins to have picked out a man of Joseph's wealth and prominence to take part in the affair at the Bay State hotel when the husband and brother were Joseph and Mrs. Lichtenstein in a room together.

"If you want a pickpocket, you go down to McDonough brothers saloon and ask them for the man you need. If you want a criminal in one line or another, you take a definite step." The judge addressed was an arraignment of Mrs. Lichtenstein.

This afternoon Attorney Stanley Mead, who represented the wife, will have a chance to tell his side of the story.

SEEKS CLEW TO WEALTH OF FORMER HUSBAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—For five days Mrs. Olivia Johnson, wife of William H. Johnson, former Alaska mining man, has not long since president of the San Francisco Art Glass Works, has been endeavoring to find out whether Johnson has any money. The couple were divorced in June, 1907, and Johnson ordered to pay $75 a month alimony. He owes $147 and his wife claims concealment of the property. He says he has none, and so far three photographs of women have been the only personal effects found save two lots in Newark. There, however, are under attachment by Miss Alice Johnson, a former stenographer in Johnson's employ.

CLUBMAN PLUNGES TO DEATH OVER CLIFF

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 4.—The body of S. Homer Everett, a young society, club and business man, who mysteriously disappeared Saturday night, was found this afternoon on the lake shore of the Lake-wood, at the foot of a high cliff. It is believed that Everett, when taken sick at a house-warming, wandered out in a daze and fell over the cliff.

within Adrianople itself. Otherwise the foreign consuls there would not have considered it necessary to ask their ambassadors to secure an escort for the foreign residents of the city who desire to pass through the lines. Shukri Pasha, the Turkish commander who is defending Adrianople, has declared that he will not surrender the fortress until the last of his soldiers has been killed.

DESERPTIONS FROM RANKS.

While there have been some desertions from the ranks of the garrison these have been chiefly Christian soldiers serving with Turkish regiments. Shukri Pasha still has some 4,000 men, a number considered quite sufficient to man the forts and hold at bay the much greater besieging force.

The Bulgarians are said to have 550,000 men in the province of Thrace, with 45,000 Serbian soldiers and perhaps a few divisions of Greeks assisting them. The greater part of this force, however, is compelled to remain in front of Tchetaltja and at Gallipoli in order to hold the Turkish armies concentrated at those places.

It is possible that the allies may attack one or both of these positions. If they could reach Gallipoli of Turkish troops and attack the Dardanelles straits this would give free passage to the Greek fleet, which then would be able to render some assistance at Tchetaltja. On the other hand, the winter season is so unfavorable for offensive operations that the allies may decide to let the Turks make the first move from Tchetaltja.

TCHATALJA ARMY IMPROVED.

The Ottoman army at Tchetaltja has greatly improved during the armistice. The soldiers are better armed than they were, sickness among them has diminished, supplies have been brought up in great quantities and fresh troops are now man the string of powerful forts.

The great drawbacks to the success of the Turks are the political quarrels among the Ottoman officers, which must tend to undermine the efficiency of the army.

On the other side of the Balkan peninsula, Scutari, where the Montenegrins are besieging the fortress, is reported through the correspondent of a Dutch newspaper to have fallen. There is no confirmation of this report from any other source.

British and German warships passed through the Dardanelles yesterday for the protection of the foreign residents of Constantinople and a fleet of warships belonging to other powers is anchored in Besika bay, ready for any emergency.

ATTACKS REPULSED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 4.—The garrison of Adrianople easily repulsed attacks last night by the Bulgarians on the north and east fronts of the fortress, according to the official report issued here today. Although no serious fighting has occurred along the Tchetaltja lines, the Bulgarian troops are not idle.

The village of Tchetaltja, which has hitherto been the limit of the Bulgarian lines, is in flames. Its destruction was apparently decided on today for tactical reasons.

An encounter between Bulgarian and Turkish troops took place at Maltepe, near Gallipoli today.

SPARKS FLY FAST IN DIVORCE CASE

Alleged Affinity Is Charged Up Against Accounts of Others.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Edna Joslyn-Clyde, an actress at a local theater, was one of the witnesses in the Superior Court here today in connection with a divorce action originally begun by her husband, Raymond A. Booth, clerk in a downtown shoe store. Mrs. Booth, who is the actress, is a private life, filed a cross complaint charging cruelty, following her spouse's suit, alleging desertion, which was brought last October. Today both were in court on a motion for attorneys.

A. P. Whelan started the fireworks by asking Mrs. Booth if she knew a man named James Webb, attorney Frank B. Kingston, the wife's counsel, objected, whereupon Whelan said:

"Our whole case rests on the fact that this man, James Webb, an engineer on the steamship Centralia for years past, has unknown to this woman's husband, been paying her $100 a month. When Booth learned this last October, he left her."

Kingston responded quickly to the effect that if that was to be the charge he would accuse Booth of white slavery, declaring that Mrs. Booth took the money with his knowledge and consent.

When Booth took the stand, he declared that when he had married his wife he had told her she had been receiving $150 a month from her estate, but that because she wanted only a shoe clerk, she would have the amount reduced to $100 a month. He said he never saw Webb until October last, when he shadowed him on leaving him leave his home. He added that on two occasions Mrs. Booth had come to him and told him that she would quit Webb forever if he would go to San Diego with her. She was allowed $20 a month and the case was continued until February 10.

220 APPLICATIONS AND ONLY 10 JOBS

There are about four vacancies for patrolmen in the police department and six for laborers in the street department, and the city will be in need of recruits for these positions. The civil service board gave notice of proposed examinations. Since the notice was published applications have been received from about 220 men to take the examinations to fill ten places.

Secretary of the Civil Service Board Frank Colburn, has been swamped with applications. The street laborer examination will be given February 13, while that for patrolmen will be held February 14 and the applications are still coming in.

PIEDMONT PAYS GARBAGE BILL

Lifts Embargo on Refuse That Has Piled Up High for Three Days.

bage account and not to accept any less.

PIEDMONT FAILS TO PAY.

Piedmont did not pay and three days ago Superintendent of Streets Perry F. Brown authorized the street crew and the garbage wharf crew to refuse to accept further garbage from the city council and to order the scavengers to cart the refuse back to the dwellers on the bill. This was done and for the past three days garbage has been piling high in the Piedmont back yards.

This morning representatives of Piedmont tendered the $75 for the garbage bill. Acting under instructions from the city council the treasurer refused to accept the garbage bill unless the sewer bill was also paid. The discussion was taken up by Commissioner P. C. Turner, who complained that Piedmont was two fiscal years in arrears on the sewer bill. After some argument Ballentine convinced the council that the two matters should be adjusted on their merits and not entangled and the council accepted the $75 for the garbage bill.

OLD BONE OF CONTENTION.

The sewer bill is an old bone of contention between Oakland and Piedmont. When the main sewer which is used by Piedmont was built Piedmont paid $5000 toward the bill. An agreement was entered into between the two cities that this sum should pay for Piedmont's use of the sewer so long as the use by Piedmont did not make it inadequate for the Oakland sewerage into this main.

About three years ago the sewer was overburdened and Piedmont paid $1000, as repairs were necessitated. Oakland considered that the sewer was overburdened thereafter, and charged up Piedmont with $1000 a year rental.

Piedmont contends that the money is not due in accordance with the agreement. This will be arbitrated later.

AD. MEN MEET AT WEEKLY SESSION

Merits of Newspaper, Street Car and Billboard Publicity Is Discussed.

One of the most instructive programs given by the Oakland Advertising Association took place today at the Hotel Oakland.

Lee Berthillon and H. W. McLean acted as chairman. The merits of newspaper, billboard and street car advertising were discussed in comparison with the value of "personal appeal" publicity, which is made up of personal letters, catalogues and booklets.

The speakers were Gleason Davis, F. L. Hall, J. R. Newsum, A. L. Gerhart, W. N. Cribbins, Ray S. Kitchener and Glenn C. Barnhart.

Much valuable information was brought out in the various talks.

The newspaper was conceded to be the primary advertiser. A successful campaign could be carried to completion in the newspapers without the supplementary aid of billboards, street cars and personal literature, but that practically no campaign of advertising could be successful without the use of newspaper space and circulation and publications of national circulation.

Barnhart hit upon the vital point when he stated that the advertiser must "think." The average merchant knows what store organization he needs; he should also devise his advertising organization and study what mediums his particular business requires.

The wise solicitor of advertising copy should also conscientiously advise the merchant as to the best expenditure of his advertising appropriation.

HRS. HATTIE E. WILSON IS CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Hattie E. Wilson, wife of J. E. Wilson of this city, is dead at her home, 450 Sixty-fifth street, where she has resided for the last seven years. During the past few months Mrs. Wilson had been ailing and had been under medical treatment.

The deceased was a native of Wisconsin, and soon after arriving in California settled in San Francisco. Her death followed the earthquake of 1906 she moved to this city. The late Mrs. Wilson is survived by a husband, J. E. Wilson, and two daughters, Mrs. E. M. Brown of Portland and Mrs. F. H. Callendin of this city. The body was cremated this afternoon in the Oakland Crematory.

UNIVERSITY MOURNS MISS LAWRENCE'S DEATH

BERKELEY, Feb. 4.—The funeral of Miss Nora Lawrence, who was burned to death in the apartment house fire in Sacramento last Sunday, will be held in this city Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will be conducted at the home of Professor W. J. Wickson, former dean of the Department of Agriculture in the University of California. Miss Lawrence was the sister of Mrs. Wickson. She had been employed for some time at the capital at Sacramento. Her death has spread a gloom over a large part of the faculty community among the members of which she was well known.

Definite arrangements for the funeral are to be made this afternoon.

STIFF KNEE LAMES RUSSIAN CROWN PRINCE

YALTA, Crimea, Russia, Feb. 4.—The Imperial Crown Prince Alexis of Russia is still unable to straighten his left leg at the knee owing to the injury he sustained recently, but, according to the physician in attendance, this lameness will rapidly disappear. General Dumbadze, who returned today from the palace of Tsar Nicholas, visited the youthful prince and conversed with him repeatedly. He says the lad is full of spirit as ever and has grown considerably taller and more muscular since last spring.

SENATE SINGS TO TUNE OF $50,000

Caminetti Bill Asks That Sum for Statues to Fremont and Hearst.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—The Senate officially broke into song on the final day of the first legislative period in a bill introduced by Senator A. Caminetti of Jackson, who is credited with having the soul of a poet.

"The days of old, The days of gold, The days of '49," carols Senate bill 1605, and inasmuch as it carries an appropriation for $50,000, there is some reason, perhaps, to sing.

The bill is for the purpose of erecting two statues in the hall of fame in the national capital at Washington, one to John C. Fremont, the gallant pathfinder, and the other to George Hearst, pioneer, miner, eminent state builder and statesman and United States Senator from this state.

APPROVES U. S. MARINE.

Senator Lee C. Gates of Los Angeles introduced a resolution approving the government ownership and operation of a line of Atlantic-Pacific steamships via Panama. It recites that shippers of the coast "were for many years at the mercy of the transcontinental railroads in the matter of rates," that "this monopoly is now threatening to become absolute through the destruction of the California-Atlantic Steamship Company, which was controlled by Henry Sears Bates and Arthur Sewell Chesborough, worthy descendants of illustrious California pioneers," and that the experience of this company has shown "the impossibility of a successful fight by individual shippers for an independent steamship line, because of sinister and powerful interests controlling the transcontinental roads and steamship lines now operating."

A previous like resolution introduced by Senator Caminetti does not mention the California-Atlantic Steamship Company by name. The Senate took brief recesses through the morning, waiting for the noon hour, at which time adjournment was fixed by resolution.

STOCKTON GREETED RICHARD KESSLER

Oaklander Warmly Welcomed by Comedian Kelly and Delegation.

Passengers on the Santa Fe train which arrived at 6:40 o'clock last evening were given an unexpected treat at the depot when R. T. Kessler of Oakland was welcomed by a delegation of Stockton friends. Kessler is a lifelong friend of Walter C. Kelly, the Orpheum comedian, and when they parted in Oakland a week ago they kissed each other good-bye, as is their custom.

It was arranged that Kelly should be induced to go to the depot last night to meet some fictitious personage. While Kessler and Kelly were dining at the Hotel Stockton, where they awaited them. The decorations consisted of German and Irish flags, cabbages, potatoes and onions. R. Leo Van der Nallien, general manager of the Oro Electric, and Senator Munter were the hosts—Stockton Mail.

SPECIAL COURSE OF RIDING LESSONS

Miss Graham's Offer Inducement to Horseback Devotees.

Miss Beatrice Graham has established one of the most popular and economical inducements to health and pleasure. Horseback riding is a recreation, Miss Graham says, that should be enjoyed by everyone. To make this possible she is now issuing a number of riding certificates that entitle the holder to a course of ten riding lessons at the very nominal price of $10. This rate, by the way, is less than one-half the regular rate for such a course, and for those who are interested in health, pleasure and recreation no better inducement could be offered.

Furthermore, if you are not already an experienced rider, Miss Graham guarantees proficiency in one course. Further particulars regarding this excellent horseback riding offer may be obtained by writing to Miss Graham at the Academy, Twenty-fourth and Telegraph, or telephoning Oakland 3814.

ASSEMBLY HOLDS ITS LAST SESSION

Polsley Announces Himself as Satisfied With Game Resolution.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—The Assembly convened at 9 o'clock today in order to get a good start on the rush of business which usually crops up on the final day of a session. There was a liberal sprinkling of vacant desks, many members having left for home since Saturday, and there was a well-worn trail to the office of the state treasurer on the floor below, where members and attaches depleted a huge stack of gold by cashing their warrants.

Speaker Young appointed the five Assemblymen of the joint committee which is to investigate during the recess and report on the advisability of the state bonding itself for several million dollars for the erection of new buildings. He named Assemblyman W. F. Chandler, Fresno, chairman; J. H. Inman, Sacramento; J. R. Ryan, San Francisco; Harry Polsley, Red Bluff, and Frank E. Woodley, Los Angeles.

ANNECINATION MEASURE. The introduction of bills was then taken up with an apparently undiminished supply available. Assemblyman Ryan of San Francisco introduced a constitutional amendment providing for the annexation to San Francisco of San Mateo county.

Assemblyman Harry Polsley announced on the floor today that he was satisfied with the vote yesterday on his resolution calling for a report by the fish and game commission of the alleged political activities of its attorney, Robert Dulka, and would not press the matter further. The resolution was tabled yesterday by a close vote.

A resolution authorizing the chief clerk of the Assembly, L. B. Mallory, to hire a certified public accountant and make a thorough investigation of the condition of the Continental Building and Loan Association in San Francisco was introduced today by Assemblyman William S. Scott of that city.

STATE CABINET IS AIM OF FARWELL

Assemblyman Would Make the High Offices Appointive by Governor.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—A Governor's cabinet, to be composed of the Lieutenant-Governor and Controller, elected by the people, and the Secretary of State, State Treasurer, Attorney-General and State Engineer, appointive, is provided in a proposed constitutional amendment introduced in the lower house by Assemblyman Lyman Farwell of Los Angeles.

To accomplish this end, the Secretary of State, Treasurer and Attorney-General appointive by the Governor, it will be necessary for the people to repeal many sections in the constitution. The measure also provides that members of the cabinet shall have for ten years prior to his election or appointment, represented any public utility corporation in any capacity.

The effect of the proposed amendment would be to relieve the people of the responsibility of casting their votes for any State officers, except the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Controller, State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Surveyor-General.

MUST MEET WEEKLY. The cabinet, under the proposed amendment, will be required to meet once a week during sessions of the Legislature to discuss matters with reference to the welfare of the State and proposed legislation. At any other time the cabinet would meet at the call of the Governor.

A second amendment proposed by Farwell is to unite the legislative branches of government into one body of 80 members to be known as the "Senate," the members to be elected for four-year terms. The Senate will meet biennially or in extraordinary session, subject to a call by the Governor.

A third amendment by Farwell provides that any newspaper, magazine or publication of any kind which, for 40 days preceding any general, or primary election, in any matter of State, county or municipal issue, must give equal space in the same issue to arguments for and against the candidate or issue.

Assembly Bills Foot 2000 Mark

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—There was a momentary lull in the introduction of bills this morning just after the clerk had read Assembly bill 1994.

"We need six more bills," said Speaker Young, "who has them."

Half a dozen members jumped to their feet and the bills footed up to the 2000 mark. All records for the number introduced in both houses were shattered days ago.

DECLARES SPOUSE DODGED HOME LIFE

A. J. Bledsoe, Publisher, Accuses Helpmeet in Suit for Divorce.

A. J. Bledsoe, a publisher, obtained a default in his divorce suit against Jesse Bledsoe on the grounds of cruelty and when Mrs. Bledsoe decided to contest the suit. The matter is being heard before Superior Judge Harris with a promised long-drawn-out contest. Bledsoe accused his wife of talking so little interest in their home that she refused to travel a few miles in order to be there over Christmas.

Objecting to his wife's attitude in seeking a divorce from him, Charles A. Cook has filed a cross-complaint to her suit in which he accused her of having subscribed for three afternoon newspapers and one morning paper, paying for them out of his salary as an iron worker. In addition Cook charges that his wife preferred another man by the name of Fred Bott.

After a day's trial, Superior Judge Harris granted Minnie Ellenberger a decree of divorce on her cross-complaint against Ellenberger. George Ellenberger testified that his father had treated his step-mother in a cruel manner. Married in April and deserted in September, Leon L. Clarke was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce. He testified that his wife, Grace E. Clarke, whom he had married in San Rafael, attempted to get a divorce from him shortly after the wedding but that she let the matter drop and then he filed suit against her.

Agnes M. Burns-MacDonald of Alameda had filed suit for divorce against Stuart Burns-MacDonald alleging cruelty. Suit was commenced today by Florence E. Roundey against Charles E. Roundey, charging cruelty.

ALLEGED BUNGO MEN ARE JAILED

Local Officials Save Washington Visitor From Clutches of Trio.

Inspectors St. Clair Hodgkins and Thomas Wood were standing at Seventh and Washington streets last evening when they saw four men pass by in earnest conversation.

"We'll show you where you can make some coin," they heard one of the men say to the fourth man in the party.

The two inspectors trailed the quartet about the streets and into several cafes for half an hour and then took them into custody. Three of the men have been charged with vagrancy, while the fourth will appear if a trial is necessary as the complaining witness. He was to have been the victim of confidence operators.

The three arrested were Claude E. King, George David King and Joseph Frederick Quirk. They are believed to be part of the influx of yeggmen, confidence men and vagrants coming from San Francisco.

The three had scraped an acquaintance with R. H. Wiley, a visitor from Washington, and had offered to show him the city. They were leading him about town preparatory to making him the victim of some bunco deal, according to the inspectors.

The membership of this grove is now over 100 and more applications are expected next meeting, which will be held Thursday evening at Foresters' Hall.

Lungs Were Affected Now in Good Health

It is beyond human power to perform miracles. The makers of Eckman's Alternative, a remedy for Consumption, do not claim that it will restore every one to perfect health, but so many have voluntarily testified that it saved their lives that all who have this dread disease should investigate and try it. It should stop the night sweats, reduce fever, promote appetite and induce rest, thus prolonging life. Read what it accomplished in this case:

Catherine Ave. and Ascent Place, Queen's Court, L. I.
"Gentlemen: In the year 1908 I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty cough and went to several doctors, including specialists. Their medicines failed. I then went to the Catskills, but the cough still bothered me. I stayed there a week and then went on a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man.

My brother then recommended Eckman's Alternative to me very highly. At first I would not consent to use it, owing to the fact that I had taken so many medicines without being helped in any way, but finally I consented. It is now nearly two years since I first took it. I am now cured, and I dare say that I would have been buried long ago if it had not been for Eckman's Alternative. I wish to thank you for the goodness to which I owe my life to it. (Signed) J. O. TROESCHER.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. DRAMATIST TALKS ON 'ZEITGEIST'

Leo Cooper of "Excuse Me" Company Lectures to Audience in Synagogue.

Leo Cooper of the "Excuse Me" company, now playing at the Macedonia Theatre, gave a lecture last night in the Jewish synagogue at Twelfth and Castro streets. The affair was conducted under the auspices of the Daughters of Israel Relief Society and was well attended. Cooper chose as his subject different readings from Zangwill's "Melting Pot." Cooper said in part: "This present era is one that particularly exhibits in the plays with the advanced thoughts of the century, the deepest philosophic conclusions and the most potent problems confronting the 'Zeitgeist.' Today we have wonderful exemplars of all sorts and conditions of soul as well as of all sorts and conditions of men. Hauptmann, Eberhard, Maeterlinck, D'Annunzio, Sudermann and an army of others. These dramatists all deal with the idea, the idea being the revelation of our Modern Spirit."

Of the "Melting Pot," he said: "This play of Zangwill's occupies a unique position. Although within itself it holds a strong philosophic conception, it is not clothed in any abstruse symbolism; rather the most human realism is employed. In the 'Melting Pot' there is a stand taken for the most genuine essence of this republic, and the recognition is forced upon all of the fundamental purpose of its mighty conceptions. Zangwill has voiced the tragedy of civilization, wherever races and peoples feel the cosmic urge to abandon the old traditions and worn-out customs for the progressive of the race, and nowhere in America is this call to Jewry so imperative for the mysterious duty of the race."

PUTS BURGLAR TO FLIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Miss Sadie Frank, who lives at 2141 Pine street, put a burglar to flight whom she encountered in her home this morning. Hearing a noise, Miss Frank saw the man coming up the stairs. She screamed and started after him. Patrolman Elmer J. Esperance responded to a call on his motorcycle, but the man had left the neighborhood.

LACK OF EVIDENCE IN REV. HORN CASE

The Bigamy Charge May Fall Through; Pastor Maintains Innocence.

REDWOOD CITY, Feb. 4.—Lack of evidence that Rev. Frank Horn, accused of bigamy by Mrs. Mae Metz De Tovera, who claims to be his second wife, was ever married, may cause the case to fall through. According to the attorneys in the case, there is ample proof that the first wife filed divorce suit, but none that he ever married her. A marriage certificate has been produced, but this the attorneys state may be spurious. There is no record of the marriage, they claim.

Horn, who was pastor of the First Baptist church in Richmond, until Mrs. De Tovera accused him of having married her under the name she bore, was brought to this city, where he is alleged to have married her, and is to be tried here. He has continually insisted on his innocence, and has declared that a twin brother married the woman. Investigations of the attorneys in perfecting the case disclosed the fact that there is no record to be found of the first marriage on which the bigamy case is based, and should this be the case, he could only be prosecuted on a charge of having inveigled the other woman in the case, then Miss Jennie Sidwell, into a mock marriage.

FOUR YEARS IN PRISON FOR BLINDING VICTIM

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—One of the most peculiar cases of mayhem on the local records, resulted today in the sentencing of Albert Howell to four years in San Quentin. The reason for the severity of the punishment ministered to the accused by Superior Judge Dunne, is found in the fact that Howell had previously been arrested for both burglary and petty larceny.

On Thanksgiving night Howell and a companion, approached Terry Tahrman and a friend who were standing talking at Steiner street. Howell asked Tahrman "what the row was about" and immediately the four men engaged in a fight which resulted in Tahrman losing his right eye. Howell's arrest followed.

TROUBADOUR SINGS FOR INDIAN BAND

Francois Is Welcome Guest at Big Nevada Reservation.

(Francois, the Troubadour, who is traveling on foot and earning his way by singing from the Hotel Oakland and Grand California, to the Waldorf Astoria, New York city, with a special letter of greeting from the French consul, later host, is describing his experiences during the trip by special correspondence to THE TRIBUNE.)

(Special Correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.)

Nixon, Nevada, Feb. 1, 1913. Pyramid Lake Indian Reservation. Left Sparks on last Monday morning, January 27, at 9 o'clock and arrived in Wadsworth on the same day at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, having made the entire distance from Sparks to Wadsworth in seven hours.

Was met at the Southern Pacific depot in Wadsworth by Mr. Koehler, the agent, and after having partaken of lunch as his guest we went on a little fishing excursion to the Truckee river, but as when I am a member of a fishing party, I am not a member of a fishing party, and returned empty handed.

On the following morning, Tuesday, I had the pleasure of meeting J. D. Oliver, the superintendent of the Pyramid Lake Indian reservation of Nevada, who invited me to spend a few days at the reservation headquarters as his guest, which invitation I most agreeably surprised to receive and delighted to accept.

After arriving at the agency we had lunch in the general mess room and afterward Mr. Oliver showed me about the place, and while showing me the large assembly room and the Indian hall, he occurred to him that the Indians might enjoy a song recital, and especially as the majority of them had never heard singing of any kind.

One of the Indian policemen, Joe Mandel by name, went around the reservation, covers 250,000 acres of desert land and notified the Indians of the impending musicale. The way those Indians piled into the assembly hall would have done credit to a "first night" anywhere.

The ovation rendered me by those Indians was stupendous and the way in which they yelled and whooped after each number on the program left nothing to be desired in the way of a response. And further they appreciated each and every number and some of the criticisms were remarkably intelligent. If I was singing to the audience sat through the program so quietly that you could have heard a pin drop in the back of the house and such attention was inspiring in itself. The program included selections from Midnights, D'Hardelet, Hawley, Metcalf, Liszt, Beethoven and Tosti.

Tomorrow will ride over to Lake Winnemucca in company with some of the ladies of the reservation and in the evening will return to Sparks on the Nevada road and resume my walk across the continent. The diversion afforded by the side trip to Pyramid Lake and the rest it has afforded me is most appreciated.

Will leave Wadsworth Monday morning for Hazen and Lovelock. The weather is fine and with the best of wishes to THE TRIBUNE and its readers, I am,

Very sincerely,

FRANCOIS, THE TROUBADOUR.

PLANT STATE FLAG OF MASSACHUSETTS

Easterners Dedicate the Site at 1915 World's Fair Grounds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—The Massachusetts exposition commissioners dedicated the site for the Bay State participation in the 1915 fair with pomp and ceremony today. Native of Massachusetts to the number of 10,000 coming from San Francisco, Oakland and the other cities about the bay took part in a monster celebration on the Presidio reservation, and the Sixth and Sixteenth United States Infantry and a cavalry squadron paraded in their honor. At the conclusion of the ceremonies at the drill grounds a cavalry troop escorted the commissioners and the directors of the exposition in the Massachusetts site, which is located near the bay shore. Miss Caroline Hughes raised the Massachusetts flag to the peak of the tall pole and Colonel Corr planted a flag in dedication of the site itself.

Due to the ceremony a luncheon was tendered by the board of directors in the red room of the Palace hotel, which was presided over by Frank L. Brown. Among the speakers were Benjamin Ide Wheeler, President Charles C. Moore, Colonel Corr, chairman of the Massachusetts committee; Mayor Ralph and Judge M. H. Hyland.

Tonight there will be a reception in honor of the commissioners at the Fairmont hotel.

NATURE OF INSULT MEASURE OF GUILT

Dr. Weiss Sentenced to Four Months in Jail and $100 Fine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Not the character of the woman insulted, but the nature of the insult is the measure of a "masher's" guilt. So the United States District Court held here today in pronouncing sentence of four months in jail and $100 fine on Dr. Samuel Weiss, a young physician of good repute, who had pleaded guilty to sending an obscene note through the mails to Elizabeth Mayne, a vaudeville actress.

In presenting the case yesterday, the United States attorney asked no consideration for the woman, who, he said, was glad to get the letter because it brought her notoriety. Judge Dietrich considered only the nature of the offense and not the person at whom it was directed.

JAPANESE INFANTICIDE PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Kuke Kitakami, the Japanese woman, who killed her infant and then attempted suicide several weeks ago, pleaded not guilty before Judge Wells and her case was set for trial on February 27. It is believed by the authorities that the crime was committed while the mother was in a state of despondency through poverty and in accordance with an ancient Japanese custom.

Joseph H. Neal, former town treasurer of Pleasanton, accused of embezzling about $1200, pleaded guilty before Superior Judge Wells this morning and asked that his case be referred to the probation office. Neal claims that he took the money in order to satisfy pressing creditors after the death of his wife and members of his family.

NATIVES PREPARE FOR CELEBRATION

Joint Theater Party Will Formally Open the Big Campaign.

Arrangements have been completed for the joint Native Sons' theater party to be held at the Pantages theater Thursday evening, February 13. The special features proposed will make it one of the most brilliant affairs ever undertaken by the Native Sons. The theater is to be decorated for the occasion and an electric illumination has been prepared. The advance sale of seats has been unusually large and a crowded house is anticipated. The occasion will formally announce the campaign to be started for funds to carry on the Admission Day celebration to be held in Oakland this year. On Friday, January 24, the subscription committee met with the citizens' committee to arrange details and formulate plans for carrying on the work.

The citizens' committee interested in the plans includes Frank Woodward, Theo. Gier, Louis Aber, William Layman, D. McLaughlin of Heeseman's, and others.

With the suitable sums contributed by the city and county governments, the United Properties, Water Company and various other companies, the subscription committee is about to start a general campaign. As it will be one of the largest undertakings ever held in Oakland, the committee hopes that the movement will meet with the approval of all the merchants, many of whom have already signified their desire to bring the plan to a successful culmination.

A communication has been received from the Stockton 1912 celebration committee, which the Oakland committee hopes to use to good advantage. Stockton has held the celebration several times and knows the exact results obtained by such an affair.

"All is Well That Ends Well"

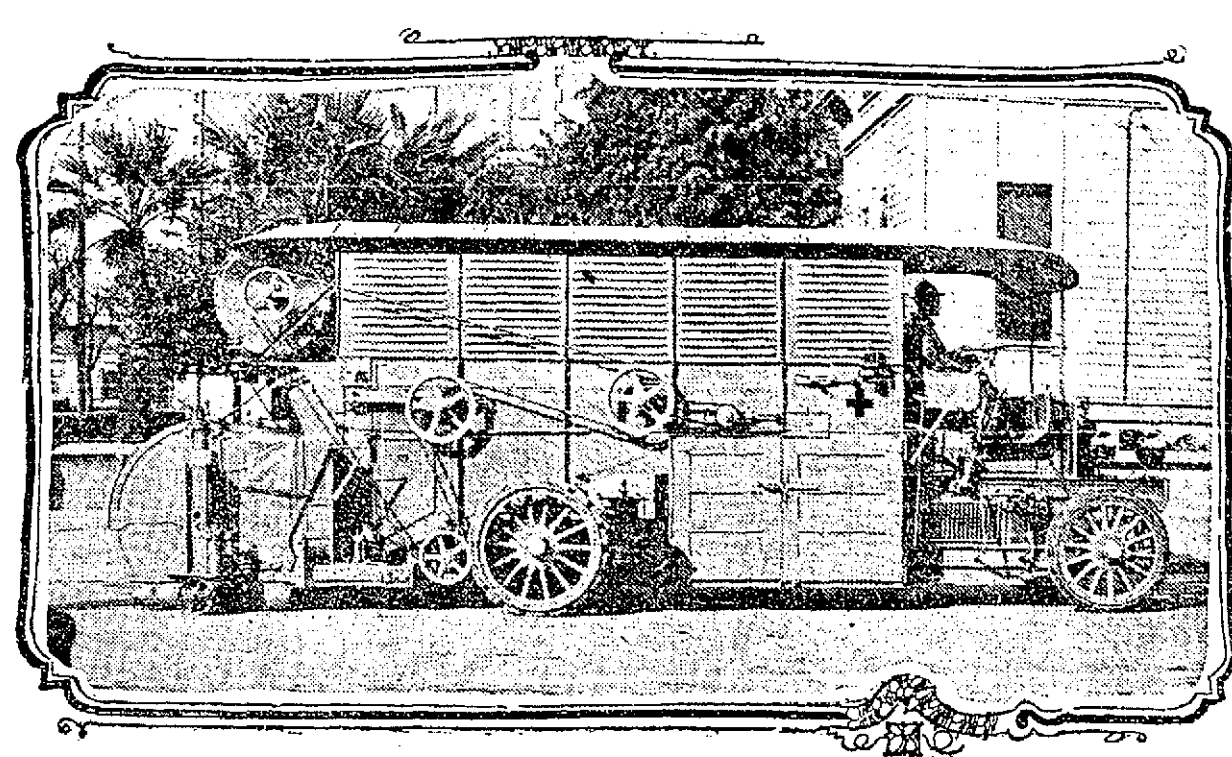

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness, sleeplessness and general ill health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be assimilated and carried to the blood. On the other hand, the blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion. In turn, the nerves are not fed on good, red blood and we see those symptoms of nervous breakdown. It is not hard work that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip—bronchitis—consumption. Fortify the body now with

THE BUTLER SANITARY STREET-SWEEPING MACHINE

The Butler Street Sweeping Machine, an Oakland invention.

An Oakland Invention, Motor-Driven That Sweeps the Streets and Removes All the Dust and Makes No Noise

Oakland's streets are now being swept by a motor-driven sanitary street-sweeping machine, invented and built by Charles H. Butler of this city. It is the most perfect device for cleaning streets yet invented. It was invented and built in this city and the patents are owned by the Sanitary Street Company.

This machine sweeps the streets dry and takes up the material as it goes along and removes the dust. In doing this it does something that no other device yet invented is able to accomplish. It is an improvement on hand sweeping since it does not raise any dust, but lifts all the dust from the street under a cover which closes tightly around the broom and deposits it in boxes inside the machine.

The machine makes very little noise and sweeps in the daylight without interfering in any way with traffic or the comfort and convenience of pedestrians. It does not take up any more room than an ordinary truck, makes less noise and raises no dust whatever. It solves the dust problem in street cleaning completely and puts an end to the menace and nuisance of dust in the crowded thoroughfares.

The Butler machine is unique in that one gas engine drives the truck and the sweeping machinery. Its speed is regulated to a nicety, ranging from a mile and three quarters to eight and a half miles an hour, working as steady as a clock. One of its chief recommendations is that it cleans the dust and fine refuse finding a lodgment in the slots of car tracks, it will take up such heavy things as horseshoes and pieces of broken stone and leaves the street as clean as a floor and as free from dust as a parlor.

This machine can be seen sweeping in the heart of the business district any time during the day.

Experts from San Francisco, Los Angeles and other Pacific coast cities have been watching its operation and as soon as new machines can be constructed, the Butler device will be utilized in San Francisco. Medical men who have taken note of its operation unite in saying that it is the most perfect sanitary device ever invented.

OPENING OF CLAY STREET DISCUSSED

Letters Read to Improvement Association, Indorsing Improvement Plans.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Greater Business District Association was held last evening at Enterprise hall, Twenty-second and Grove streets, Louis Bartlett presiding. Among the speakers were O. E. Hotie, W. J. Layman and Walter H. Leimert.

The meeting was for the purpose of discussion regarding the proposed opening of Clay street from San Pablo north to Telegraph and Grove street, dividing the present three-foot blocks and opening up this district for retail business.

Letters were read strongly indorsing the proposed extension from H. C. Capwell company, Frank A. Leach and M. C. Chapman, Chapman, in his letter to the board of street opening commissioners, which was read at the meeting, states as follows: "Believing that all of the owners of property through which it is proposed to extend Clay street will be made richer by the improvement, and that they as well as others and the city of Oakland will be greatly benefited thereby, I sincerely hope that your honorable board will give this matter your early and considerate attention. The result that you will order the opening and extension of Clay street as soon as convenient and practicable."

LEIMERT POINTS TO NEEDS. Walter H. Leimert, one of the largest property owners along the line of the proposed extension, addressed the meeting, pointing out the many advantages of the contemplated improvement and presenting estimates regarding costs. "While it is impossible to foretell exactly the manner in which the street-opening commissioners will apportion the expense," said Leimert, "the cost to property owners on the east side of Grove and the west side of Telegraph and along Nineteenth, Williams, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Jones, Twenty-second, Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth, with the exception of the corners on Clay, which, of course, will be made extremely valuable, should not be much more than $10 a front foot, and perhaps less than that sum. It is conservatively estimated that the increase in value of this same property will be from 25 to 50 per cent, or from $20 to $100 a front foot on the cross streets."

According to Leimert's figures, the total cost of the Clay street extension will be in the neighborhood of $500,000. "The moment Clay street is ordered through," he said, "property owners in the district affected will be enriched at least two million dollars."

The club by a unanimous vote authorized the executive committee to present as part of its report the figures regarding the cost that were presented by Leimert.

The economy of heating water with gas is apparent when it is considered that you consume fuel only when you need hot water. It is not necessary to keep a fire going all day to get hot water now and then.

Both health and cleanliness demand hot water. And the easiest, most economical and most satisfying way to get it is to use gas.

SLEUTH'S MISTAKE STIRS BLUE BLOOD

Dr. John A. Miller of Society
Fame Objects to Being Taken for Janitor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Even a perfectly good detective whose record is above suspicion and who never has had any connection with the system may make a mistake. Moreover it is easy much disturbed at being awakened and for two detectives to make an error in the darkness and that in fact was David Murphy and Fred Steiglich did at an early hour this morning. They mistook a physician for a janitor and thereby caused considerable of a sensation. The medicine might have passed over their investigation as to his occupation had he not been palama clad and shivering at the door after being awakened rudely at 4 a. m.

The physician was Dr. John A. Miller, who is the proprietor of the fashionable Chesterfield apartments, R. Emdon, night clerk at the Colonial hotel, had telephoned a messenger that came to the Chesterfield from a vacant lot at Bush street.

The detective hurried there in an automobile and found several suits of clothes and bartender's coats. They pressed the button of the electric bell above suspicion and who never has had any connection with the system may make a mistake. Moreover it is easy much disturbed at being awakened and his answers caused one of the officers to say: "Why, you are only the janitor. We want to see the proprietor."

It was then that Dr. Miller revealed himself in no uncertain terms and the police came back with an inquiry as to whether a bartender resided in the place. This was too much. To think that a microscopist should have his home in the fashionable Chesterfield was more than Dr. Miller could stand. The door was shut and the detectives went on their way much peeved and determined to arrest somebody. The ownership of the clothing or the place from which it came had not to be as yet been found.

Making Enemies for San Francisco.

The Chronicle commends Assemblyman Schmitt for "his courage" in introducing a bill to cede the waterfront of San Francisco. It likewise approves Mr. Schmitt's bills repealing the grants to Oakland, Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Diego of their waterfrontage.

Mr. Schmitt, backed by the Chronicle, attacks municipal control of port facilities in other cities because San Francisco is not accorded the same privilege. There is no analogy between San Francisco and the ports to which the State has ceded ownership and control of their waterfrontage, but the Chronicle assumes that there is. The harbor improvements at Oakland and Los Angeles have not been made at the expense of the State or by taxing commerce. They have been made from the proceeds of local taxation—that is, the people of Oakland, Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Diego are taxing themselves to create port facilities. The improvements at San Francisco have been made by taxing commerce and with money borrowed on the credit of the State.

If San Francisco wants to gain control of her waterfront, she should elect men to the Legislature who will work to that end. She has elected a delegation opposed to the State ceding the waterfront to the city. Because the Legislature refuses to recognize Mr. Schmitt as the legislative voice of the people of San Francisco, Mr. Schmitt proposes that the State shall resume control of the waterfronts of Oakland, Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Diego and confiscate the improvements made by the people of those cities. The Chronicle cries aye.

This unfair and hostile attitude is to be regretted because it provokes anew the spirit of antagonism at a time when good feeling between the people of Alameda county and the inhabitants of San Francisco was beginning to supersede the angry hostility provoked by the annexation scheme. At the very moment Alameda representatives are asking the Legislature to grant the people of this county permission to vote on a million-dollar bond issue to aid the Panama-Pacific Exposition, a San Francisco Assemblyman proposes to take from Oakland her waterfront, which she is improving at great expense, and a leading San Francisco newspaper cries: "Good boy; sick 'em!"

The folly of this proceeding passes comprehension. If it were not so futile and senseless it would be understandable. But it can have no other effect than to provoke resentment on this side of the bay. Schmitt's absurd bills have no chance of passing, but their introduction will cause many people to vote against Alameda county giving financial aid to the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Mr. Schmitt is really injuring that enterprise and making enemies for San Francisco. His courage is the courage of folly. San Francisco should pray to be delivered from such displays of courage.

The "mating farm" bill that Senator Hans introduced by request reads so much like a practical joke that one is hardly justified in treating it seriously. If not intended to be a satire on the so-called "science of eugenics," it is entitled to the palm for legislative freaks. The only defect in the bill that we can point out at present, is the neglect to make provision for baby incubators so that the breeding experiment it is proposed the State shall undertake shall be scientific in all respects.

Moving the Stockton Insane Hospital.

Financial reasons alone forbid the immediate removal of the Stockton Hospital for the Insane to a new site in the country. The construction of new buildings will entail an enormous expenditure, which is scarcely permissible at this time on account of the straitened condition of the State Treasury.

When new buildings are erected on a new site they should be laid out and constructed, not only with a view to permanency, but should be planned in accordance with the most approved methods of housing and treating the mentally afflicted. The present buildings should not be abandoned till others better adapted to their purpose are provided.

It must be conceded that a crowded municipal district is not the proper location for an insane hospital. It is not there that the best results can be obtained, and the presence of such an institution is necessarily objectionable in a thickly-populated residence district. It depresses the value of adjacent property and creates a feeling of uneasiness among timid people.

Hospitals for the insane should be located in the country, amid spacious grounds and scenes cheering to the eye and soothing to the mind. The barrack system of housing the insane should be abolished and the cottage system substituted. Sanitation, light and air and sunshine and segregation should be utilized to the fullest extent in curing the disorders of the mentally afflicted. That is impossible when the patients are housed in huge barracks located in a crowded city.

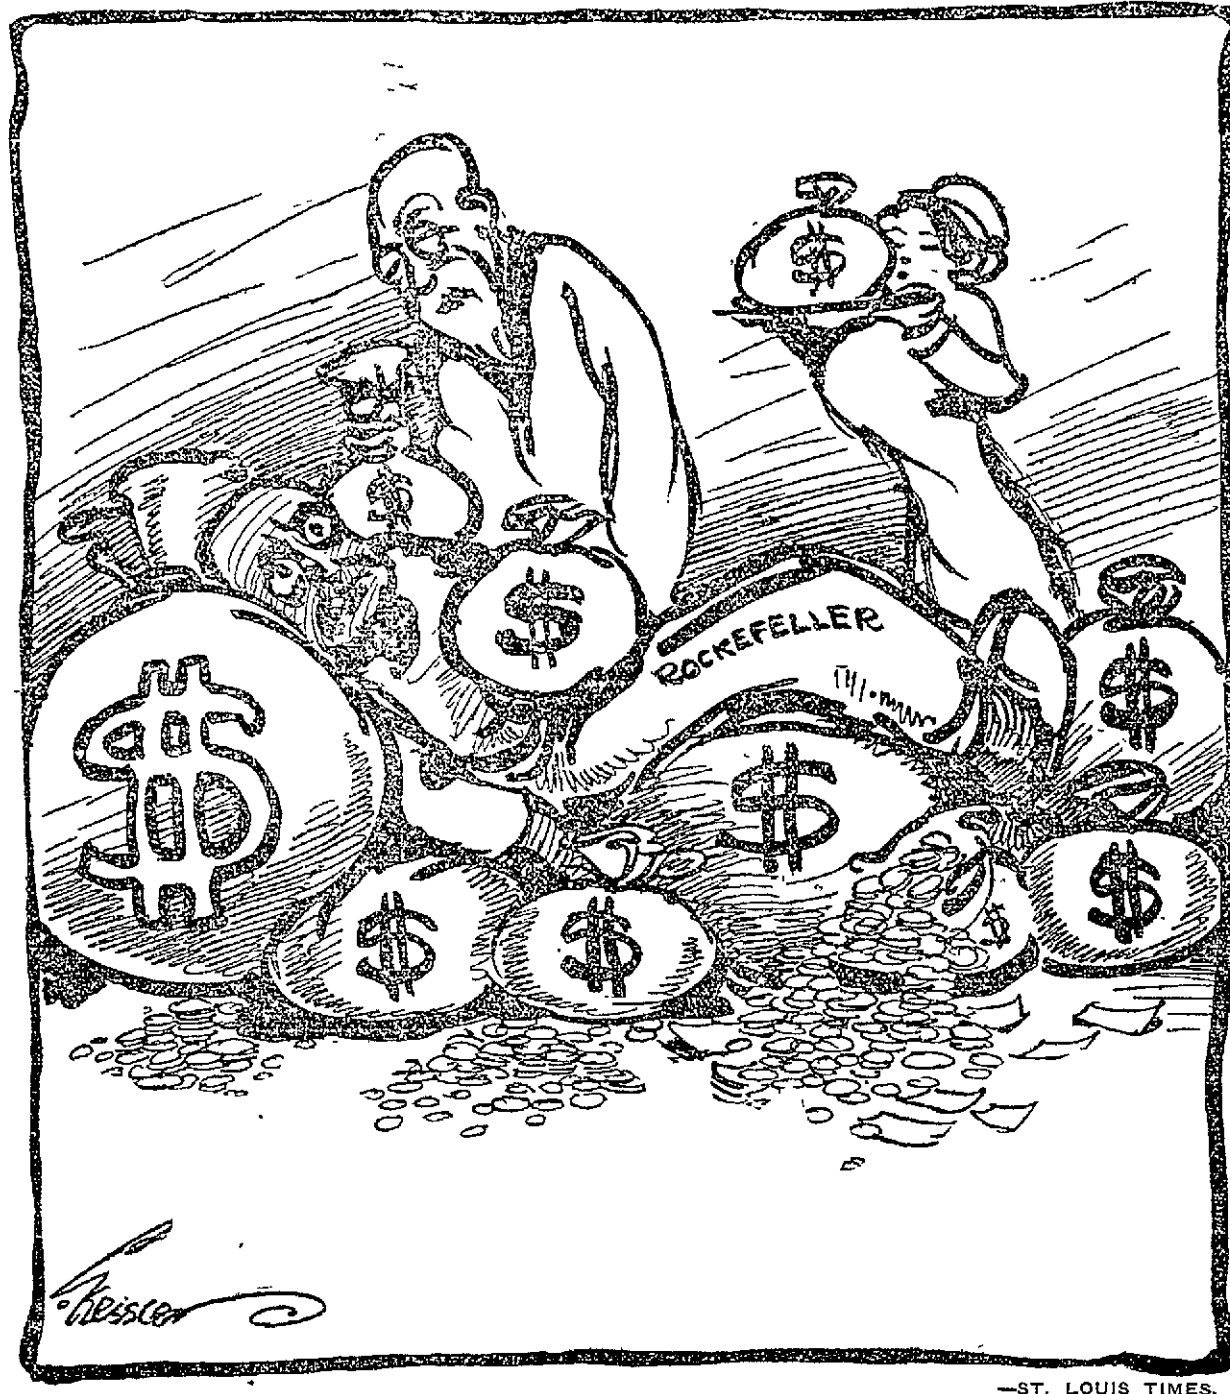

The people of Stockton want the hospital moved, and it ought to be moved. THE TRIBUNE favors an extraordinary appropriation, within the limitations of prudence, to accomplish this end, but we confess that the financial problem presented is a hard one. In the country, providing the cottage system of housing be adopted, expansion could proceed gradually, as needs arose, without calling for heavy appropriations to erect large buildings such as are required under the present system. The initial cost would be large, but economy would be served in the end.

It may be said also that a change must be made some time. A beginning must be made some time and somewhere. Science and humanity are constantly suggesting new methods of housing and treating the insane, and this State has clung too long to old methods which are universally conceded to be defective. If the insane could speak for themselves we should doubtless have pathetic appeals for an amelioration of the present system of confinement. At the earliest practicable moment the hospitals for the insane should be moved out of the towns, into the country, and the abomination of the barrack system abolished.

KANSAS GRAVEYARD

In writing of Southwestern Kansas through which the new Santa Fe line is building, Fred Vandegrift says of the towns, old and new:

"The country out this way is a graveyard of dead towns, and of human hopes which lived and died with them. An example, no less horrible and aggressive than Wooddale, but not so bloody, and never so tragic, was Springfield, eastward in Seward county. Indeed, Springfield was even more preposterous than Wooddale; for it rose to the dignity of waterworks—a great tank high upon a tower, pumps and wells, water coursing through iron pipes, fire plugs ready for business, and, logically, a fire department. These remained long after the town was hauled to Liberal, and for many years, until decay claimed them, the fire plugs stood hidden in the weeds, the wonder of strangers who crossed the prairie by the trail which led that way.

The old trail "angles" across the Wooddale townsite, meandering among the old excavations where the habitations of men once stood, now taken possession of by prairie dogs and owls. The writer, on a former journey over this plain crossed the old townsite in the night, the lamps of the automobile finding the way through the hillocks and holes, dimly visible in the soft moonlight. The scene summoned thoughts of a graveyard and the imagination conjured up visions of the past—of Sam Wood and his lieutenants, of Judge Theodosius Bottin, of the meadows, of night riders, of bands of men warring for supremacy of the plain. Only these foundations, buffalo grass fast healing the scars they made on the earth's surface, and the memories they summoned, remain of Wooddale.

"So fleet the works of men
Back to the earth again;
Ancient and holy things
Fade like a dream."

Sam Wood, who lost his life in the struggle, lies buried in Chase county, Brennan, who killed him, if still living, is a wanderer on the face of the earth; Judge Bottin, who sat on the bench through all the stormy period, is a United States Consul in Nova Scotia; night riders take saddle no more; warring bands have ceased their troubling; peace and industry claim the plain.

These old townsites are numbered by the score, and it is the road's policy to adopt their names on the new line where-ever it is practical. For examples, already it has chosen the names of Ensign and Montezuma in Gray county, former "titles" of the plain, for stations on the line. The new Montezuma sits within two miles of the old. The site of old Ensign is a bit further away. To a station in Stevens county, midway between the score, and it is the road's policy to adopt their names on the new line where-ever it is practical. For examples, already it has chosen the names of Ensign and Montezuma in Gray county, former "titles" of the plain, for stations on the line. The new Montezuma sits within two miles of the old. GLASSBLOWING IN AMERICA

Belgian glass-workers, especially the blowers and fatteners, are not coming to the United States in the numbers they formerly did, according to Eugene Bertheaux of Brussels, who has the reputation of being one of the best double ring blowers in the country. Mr. Bertheaux learned his trade in the factories of Brussels and came to this country about ten years ago, when there was a great boom in the window glass industry throughout the natural gas belt of the United States.

"You Americans are becoming so proficient in the art of blowing window and bottle glass," he said, "that there is now no great demand for the experienced Belgian blower and fatterer as there used to be. Ten years ago practically all of the double ring blowers in this country were either Belgians or French, but today not only are the single ring blowers Americans, but the double ring blowers as well.

They began to invade the glass plants of this country they would take as apprentices only the members of their own nationality. As our boys grew to manhood they became dissatisfied with the glassworkers' conditions in this country and sought other avenues of work. Naturally, this decreased the number of apprentices available for helpers. The Yankee always was willing to enter the industry because of the high wages paid and not realizing that the average life of the double ring blower is only ten years.

"Soon the helper became a blower first on the single ring and then on the double ring. As he advanced in the profession, he taught his Yankee neighbor the art, with the result that while the foreign blowers were unable to find helpers of their own nationality the American blowers could find plenty of them. The result is that the American blower has taken the place of the Belgian and French blower in both the window glass and the bottle factories.

"The same condition exists among the fatteners, though not to the extent that it is among the blowers. The fatterer does not get the wage which the blower receives, and hence young Americans are not as anxious to learn the trade of a fatterer as he was of the blower. Nevertheless, the American fatteners are taking the place of the blowers. Should machine-blown glass become the rule in this country there will be no home for the Belgian or French blower. By environment and generations of training he is a natural blower and does not take kindly to the innovation of machines. Your Yankee blower, on the other hand, takes kindly to it and hence is ready to step in and handle a machine blower.

URGENT REGISTRATION OF VOTERS IN ONE WEEK

Members of Alameda County Tax Association Introduce Amendment.

Assemblyman Clark Would Enable People to Vote on Legislation.

(Special Correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—By request of the Alameda County Tax Association, Senator A. H. Breed and Assemblyman W. C. Clark, both of Oakland, introduced amendments to the political code, affecting registration, yesterday. The amendment was prepared by Messrs. Beardsley, Leon, Clark and Kofod, the committee on legislation of the association.

The bill calls for the amendment of the registration laws, whereby the registration of voters will be accomplished within one week by registrars in each precinct, located at the public school-houses.

The city of New York registers its voters in four days by a similar system, but as a means of saving greater expenses for more registrars, the proposed bill would extend the period of registration to one week.

Provision is made for citizens who through illness, absence from their precincts, or other reason fail to register during the specified week, to file affidavit of registration with the registrar or to register at the county clerk's office.

WOULD AVOID DUPLICATION.

Duplication of effort and expense may be avoided by the provisions of a proposed constitutional amendment, offered by the Alameda County Tax Association relative to the charters of counties, which would permit of the consolidation of offices or the functions of officers of cities and counties. This bill was placed before the Legislature by the same source.

The amendment would not necessarily cover the consolidation of city and county government in their entirety, but would simply provide that where public funds could be conserved and public business expedited city and county offices could be consolidated. The amendment further provides the means to enable this consolidation.

The bills were sent to the capitol by Mark L. Regan, president of the association.

URGES DIRECT LEGISLATION.

For the purpose of enabling the people to enact legislation which the State Legislature refuses to enact or to hold up legislation which the State Legislature enacts which does not conform to the popular will of the people, Assemblyman Clark has introduced a further amendment to the initiative, referendum and recall section of the constitution, delegating greater powers to the people.

The chief change provides that the people can bring any measure on which they desire legislation before the Legislature on a petition signed by one per cent of the voters of the state. In the event the Legislature refuses to act on the petition the people can submit the proposed legislation to a vote of the state on the supplemental petition signed by 6 per cent of the voters in cases of laws or 9 per cent in cases of constitutional amendments.

Should the proponents of proposed legislation desire to bring the issue directly before the people without submitting it to the Legislature, the bill can be accomplished on petitions signed by 12 per cent of the voters in cases of proposed laws and 15 per cent for constitutional amendments.

Senate Swamped by Multitude of Bills

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—With over 1500 bills already introduced, Senators have given up trying even to read the measures poured in upon them by anxious constituents, and began yesterday introducing bills through the committee on rules by which they desire legislation before the Legislature on a petition signed by one per cent of the voters of the state. In the event the Legislature refuses to act on the petition the people can submit the proposed legislation to a vote of the state on the supplemental petition signed by 6 per cent of the voters in cases of laws or 9 per cent in cases of constitutional amendments.

Should the proponents of proposed legislation desire to bring the issue directly before the people without submitting it to the Legislature, the bill can be accomplished on petitions signed by 12 per cent of the voters in cases of proposed laws and 15 per cent for constitutional amendments.

MANY ARE INTRODUCED.

Among other measures introduced were:

By Cammelt—Limiting municipal franchises to 25 years.

By Julliard—For seven agricultural districts, with a fair in each, to be followed by the state fair; for a state board of barbers examiners.

By Flint—That employers may not specify by what bonding company their employees shall be protected, but may insist that it be a company within the state.

By Rogan—For an eight-hour day for all women in the state's employ.

By Beber—For simpler procedure in preparing a muster roll of the state.

By Wright (by request)—Declaring that federal lands are held in trust for the state; that revenues from them belong to the state, and that moralizing the federal government not to sell any more land, timber or oils from lands in the state without permission of the state.

COMMITTEE'S PROPOSAL.

From the committee on rules—Making the governor state exposition commissioner, at no salary, in charge of assembling all exhibits, and appropriating $100,000 annually for the collection and assembling of such exhibits.

By Gates—For a board of parole commissioners consisting of the lieutenant-governor, three members of the board of prison directors named by the president of that body, and three members of the state board of charities, and prescribing procedure for that body.

By Gates—For an examination for nurses.

By Cammelt—Providing possible imprisonment for officers and directors of trusts; for voting for president in our country on the national interest in voting for directors.

By Gates—For a preferential system of voting and marking first, second and third choices.

TIDELANDS BILL HELD OVER FOR SECOND HALF

Alameda Delegation Brands Schmitt's Bill 'Dog in Manger' Proposition

(Special Correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—No action will be taken on the Alameda and Berkeley tide lands bills until the second half of the 1913 Legislature. This was decided by the Assembly committee on commerce and navigation at an executive session yesterday afternoon, following a public hearing at which representatives of the island and university cities appeared and addressed the committee. The decision of the committee was that a uniform plan be drafted during the legislative recess, to which all communities seeking to have the state transfer the title to their tide lands make their bills conform, in order to secure the "dog in manger" recommendation of the committee.

There are several other bills before the committee from communities on San Francisco bay, including Emeryville and several towns to the south of San Francisco, asking for local control of their waterfronts. The committee made it known that it would insist upon amendments to all these bills to the effect that should the state vest title in the respective local governments, protection would be afforded all states by insurance of improvements within a specified period.

At the same time J. M. Inman, chairman of the committee, stated on behalf of the members of that body, that they were disposed toward aiding all of the cities and towns seeking local control of their waterfronts to achieve their ends, but only with the proper safeguards to the state.

Assemblyman Alfred Morgenstern of Alameda city introduced the Alameda delegation.

MAJOR NOY SPEAKS.

Mayor W. H. Noy of Alameda spoke of the necessity of the city to improve its waterfront and told of the advantages to commerce and the expansion of industry that would result in bringing added revenue to the state.

F. St. Sure, city attorney of Alameda, made the principal plea on behalf of the island city. He declared that Alameda could take better care of the waterfront for the state under the grant in the present bill than under present conditions, and that the transfer to the city would mean that it would be called upon to vote bonds for its improvement, which, in reality, would be simply improving the state's property, inasmuch as the state can revoke the grant in the event of the city to improperly administer the privilege.

Inasmuch as the state has held the property for several decades and has not spent a cent in its improvement, and, in all probability, would not for several decades to come, he urged that Alameda's commercial progress be not impeded by withholding the grant of the tide lands to the city.

The great menace to the city of Alameda because of the insatiable conditions created by squatters on the tide lands, who cannot be made amenable to city ordinances because they are on state property was pointed out. He showed that the health conditions could be better safeguarded if these squatters could be driven out as trespassers.

ONE SECTION IMPROVED.

Attorney St. Sure stated that there was only one piece of the Alameda waterfront improved at the present time—the San Antonio estuary, which had been improved by government appropriations secured through the efforts of the city. He said appropriations were now pending before Congress to deepen the channel in the estuary and that the city of Alameda was anxious to take advantage of this improvement by becoming the agent of the state and being granted the privilege of building a municipal wharf on this estuary.

As a result of the failure of Alameda to handle commerce over its own municipal wharf, he stated, a vast amount of business with Sacramento and San Francisco river points was lost because there is no docking facility. It is impossible to compete with other cities, he said, and showed that freight destined for Alameda by water had to be handled over the Oakland municipal wharf in the estuary, at the foot of Livingston street.

St. Sure stated that the Alameda waterfront bill was practically the same as that under which Oakland secured control of its tide lands. He declared that the bill had been considered seriously by the judiciary committee and amended several times before the grant to Oakland was recommended.

When the measure introduced by Assemblyman Schmitt of San Francisco asked for the repeal of the grants of the water fronts to Oakland, Los Angeles, and San Diego, was called to his attention, St. Sure termed the bill as a "dog in the manger" proposition, and declared that it would not alter Alameda's course in the slightest.

WILL NOT BE RETAINED.

He called attention to the fact that Oakland was spending $2,000,000 in the improvement of its waterfront and in the construction of wharves and belt lines, and that this valuable development could not be retarded by any such move.

It would cost the state millions of dollars to do what the city of Oakland is doing, he declared, and what the city of Alameda was anxious to do. He showed that the bond capacity of Alameda at the present time was $2,500,000, and stated that the people would be willing to vote a substantial bond issue for the improvement of the waterfront. The assessment roll, he said, was now $20,000,000.

An amendment was made to the bill to specify that the city of Alameda agree to bond itself to the extent of $500,000 within a period of five years should the state transfer title to the city.

This point ended with the suspension of all action until after the legislative recess. The sentiment of the Alameda delegation was that the stipulation was too severe. Several plans intended to guarantee the state that in the event of the transfer the tide lands would be improved were advanced, but the feeling among most of the members of the committee was that the bill should be held over until a definite plan of safeguarding could be outlined that would not impose too heavy a burden upon the city.

Senator George J. Hans of Oakland spoke at length in favor of action on the bill and the committee listened attentively to his arguments. He declared that Alameda was badly handicapped because it has no water transportation facilities, but that from the standpoint of remedying the sanitary conditions alone, the title to the waterfront should be vested in the city.

BONDING TASK TOO GREAT.

He said that it was very great a task to impose upon a city of 4,000 people to raise a bond issue of $500,000, and recommended that the stipulation be made that the city must improve with the erection of a municipal wharf and the specifications as to the character of the wharf be outlined. He showed the progressive spirit that prevails in Alameda by describing its municipal electric lighting system, and stated that he was satisfied the city would exhibit the same progressiveness if given the control of its waterfront.

Assemblyman Palmer of Napa, one of the members of the committee, spoke in favor of passing the bill to the floor of the Assembly and allowing it to be returned to the committee with amendments. It ordered by the Assembly, but no action was taken.

Wells Drury, secretary of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the committee on behalf of the bill introduced by Assemblyman George Gelder asking the city of Berkeley tide lands be ceded to the city. Drury stated that Berkeley would be willing to abide by any reasonable plan for the transfer of the waterfront. He said that the arguments of the university city were identical with those of Alameda.

Berkeley has already spent $100,000 in the construction of a pier as a continuation of University avenue. Drury told the committee and stands ready to bond itself for $750,000 or more for the construction of an inner harbor plan if given title to its tide lands. The city of Berkeley will bond itself for $2,000,000, if necessary, to carry out its project. It has at the present time only $350,000 bonded indebtedness.

Other members of the Alameda delegation were I. N. Chapman, city engineer, and E. B. Bullock, city commissioner.

CITIES TO LAY MAINS.

Cities hereafter will extend water mains to all consumers and make the cost of the extension a lien on the property of the water company, in the event that a bill introduced by Assemblyman Gelder becomes a law. It is proposed to add a new section to the city code to compel water companies to furnish water from their mains to anyone who desires to use it.

Under the present law the water company can require the prospective consumer to pay for the cost of installing all water mains over a certain number of feet from the point of service connection, the mains to belong to the company. Under the Gelder bill the company will be required to make this extension at its own expense.

In the event of the failure of the water company to comply with the person seeking water service can, by petition setting forth all the facts, have the city authorities direct the installation of a main at the expense of the city, the costs becoming a lien on the property of the water company.

On behalf of the department of the G. A. R. of California, Assemblyman Gelder has introduced a bill empowering the governor to appoint a commission of three citizens to co-operate with the department commander of the G. A. R. of California and Nevada for the purpose of aiding and conducting a public celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg during the first four days of July, 1913.

It would be the duty of this commission to represent the state at the celebration and, as far as possible, provide for the transportation of as large a delegation of Civil war veterans from California as an appropriation of $10,000 would make possible.

Only veterans who actually took part in the battle of Gettysburg would be eligible, whether members of the Confederate or Union armies.

Last year the state appropriated $25,000 for the celebration of the centennial of the Grand Army encampment at Los Angeles. A large part of this appropriation was returned and it is hoped that this will now be reapportioned for the use of the veterans, with enough additional to make the required $15,000.

Assemblyman Alfred Morgenstern of Alameda received a communication from W. R. Harper of Oakland, president of the Alameda County Butchers' Exchange, yesterday, declaring that they had endorsed the bill introduced by the Alameda delegation to eliminate fraudulent advertisements from all publications, booklets and other printed matter.

Senator George J. Hans of Alameda occupied a unique position in the Senate yesterday when he was called upon to occupy the president's chair during part of the day's session.

Senator Hans is chairman of the Senate fish and game committee, and as such was entertained by the state fish and game commission with the introduction of its bills to be considered at this session of the Legislature. There are in all 87 measures proposed by the commission.

Senator Tyrrell, who noticed the batch of bills on Senator Hans' desk while the latter was in the president's chair, signaled a page and sent the bills for introduction to the secretary of the Senate. Senator Hans was taken somewhat by surprise when he heard the clerk call off his name as author of the various bills, but soon discovered the joke.

The titles of the bills were read hastily and Senator Hans had the distinction of having introduced the measure and presiding over them to the Senate fish and game committee, over which he presides.

On behalf of Justice of the Peace Quinn of Oakland, Senator Tyrrell in the Senate and Assemblyman Ferguson in the House, introduced two bills reforming the procedure of justice courts and reducing the fees and costs of attorneys.

The bill drafted by Miss Bessie J. Wood of Oakland calling for the creation of a state board of embalmers, and providing regulations tending to standardize the profession, was introduced in the Senate by Senator Strobridge yesterday. The bill has been already introduced in the Assembly.

STATE EXPOSITION BUILDING FOR ALAMEDA

Oakland and Berkeley Chamber of Commerce Foster Important Project.

Senator Breed Introduced Bills Calling for Appropriations of $450,000.

(Special Correspondence of THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—Alameda county, through Senator A. H. Breed, made its initial move today to secure a state exposition building in which to maintain permanent exhibits from every county of the state. Appropriations of $200,000 for the purchase of a site and $250,000 for the erection of an exposition building are asked. The bills introduced were drafted and fostered by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce.

Senator Breed stated today that a strenuous campaign would be waged to secure favorable action on the bills before the Legislature. The granting of an agricultural hall to Los Angeles by the state will undoubtedly be cited as a reason for accord the same privileges to Alameda county.

The bill covering the acquisition of a site provides that the land may either be purchased or leased. The sum of $100,000 is made available on and after July 1, 1913, and the remaining $100,000 is payable on and after January 1, 1914. The money is made payable to the board of directors of the first agricultural district.

The $250,000 required for the erection of the building is made available on the same date as that for the purchase of the site and also calls for two equal payments.

The act recites that the exposition building in Alameda county would be for the use of all of the counties of the state for the purpose of maintaining permanent exhibits of the resources of the respective counties and that no charge shall be required by the first district agricultural association for space occupied by the counties.

Alameda county is given as the desire to encourage the development and expansion of the respective industries of the various counties of the state.

Schmitt Accused of Lacking Courtesy

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—Charging Assemblyman Milton L. Schmitt with an "unheard of breach of parliamentary courtesy," Assemblyman H. S. Benedict of Los Angeles, author of the "disparaging practices act," dissipated late yesterday the easy going abstraction which usually pervades the assembly chamber, stifled the buzz of neighborly conversation and caused the members to pay strict attention to proceedings.

Schmitt had offered a motion for the "re-referring" to the judiciary committee of Benedict's bill for the prevention of unfair competition, saying that a number of his constituents had just notified him that they desired a public hearing on the matter. The bill was passed out of the judiciary committee, of which Benedict is chairman, a week or more ago, with the recommendation that it "do pass."

"This is unheard of," said Benedict. "Never before have I seen a member move the re-referring of another member's bill without having taken up the matter with the author."

CONSENT IS WITHHELD.

"I absolutely will not consent to the re-submission of the bill. The committee passed it out without a dissenting vote, the bill was carefully drawn up and approved by Attorney General Webb and there is not a person in the state who is against it."

"There are several people in my district against it," said Schmitt, "and they ask to be heard on it."

"There is no intention on my part to hurry the bill through," said Benedict. "A companion bill has been introduced in the Senate, and I will guarantee that it will not pass out of the Senate judiciary committee until opportunity for a public hearing has been afforded."

"Who asked for a hearing on this bill," asked Assemblyman H. W. Brown of San Mateo, "a public body or some individual?"

"Both," said Schmitt. "Furthermore, the bill as drawn up, interferes with the powers vested in the railroad commission by assuming jurisdiction over public utility corporations."

"The bill would very much prefer to see your member lie over until after recess," retorted Assemblyman W. F. Chandler of Fresno. "It seems useless to turn it back into committee now."

Schmitt then moved that it be made a special order of business for 2 o'clock Monday, March 10, the day of reassembly, and the motion carried.

HOLD OVER RECESS.

During the debate Assemblyman T. D. Johnston of Contra Costa brought out the

A bill introduced in the upper house by Senator T. W. H. Shanahan, authorizing cities to condemn land needed for municipal purposes outside their corporate limits, was passed as an emergency measure and sent to the governor for signature. Growing Children Need Good Bowels

Give a Mild Laxative Occasionally to Insure Regular Bowel Action.

As a child grows older it requires more and more personal attention from the mother, and as the functions of the bowels are of the utmost importance to health great attention should be paid to them.

Diet is of great importance, and the mother should watch the effect of certain foods. A food will constipate one and not another, and so we have a healthy food like eggs causing biliousness to thousands, and a whole some fruit like bananas constipating many. It is also to be considered that the child is growing, and great changes are taking place in the young man or young woman. The system has not yet settled itself to its later routine.

A very valuable remedy at this stage and one which every growing boy and girl should be given often or occasionally according to the individual circumstances, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a laxative and tonic combined, so mild that it is given to little babies, and yet equally effective in the most robust constitution. At the first sign of a tendency to constipation give a small dose of Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and prompt action will follow in the morning. It not only acts on the stomach and bowels, but its tonic properties build up and strengthen the system generally. Mrs. Henry Babler, Van Dyne, Wis., writes that her little son, Melvin Babler, was constipated most of the time until she gave him Dr. Caldwell's

MELVIN BABLER

Syrup pepsin. Since using this remedy he has never been constipated.

The use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will teach you to avoid cathartics, salts and pills as they are too harsh for the majority and their effect is only temporary. Syrup Pepsin brings permanent results, and it can be conveniently obtained of any nearby druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address and postal will go to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington street, Monticello, Illinois, and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

'MINISTER' FLIRTS; DRIVEN FROM TOWN

FAREWELL GIFT FOR MRS. TAFT

Irate Citizens Insist on Parting Company With Divine.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 4.—"Rev." D. Griffith Shepherd, who claims to be an itinerant minister and was "drummed" out of Long Beach yesterday because he persisted in flirting with pretty girls along the strand of the suspended bridge, a police behest and vanished today. A company of "vigilantes," hastily formed, escorted "Rev." Mr. Shepherd to the interurban depot at Long Beach, forced him to board the first car out and threatened bodily injury if he returned. Prior to his banishment Shepherd had been taken to jail twice for alleged "obnoxious conduct," but was released on both occasions at the request of the women who complained against him. Each time he was taken into custody Shepherd declared he had been suffering from loss of memory.

DELEGATION ASKS FOR YOSEMITE IMPROVEMENTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The entire California Congressional delegation appeared yesterday before the House sub-committee in charge of the sundry civil bill which appropriates $230,000 for improvements in Yosemite National Park. In turn each member of the delegation presented arguments why the appropriation should be granted. The Congressmen pointed out that the appropriation most of which is for new roads and improving roads in Yosemite, is necessary in view of the crowds of visitors who will go to the park during the Panama-Pacific international exposition. It is believed the appropriation will be made.

Society Women and Friends of President's Wife Plan Diamond Necklace.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Society women and friends of Mrs. Taft today began quietly the circulation of a subscription list for funds with which to purchase a farewell gift for the President's wife. Mrs. Taft's Boardman, Mrs. Richard Townsend and several other women prominent in the social and official life of the capital have the matter in charge, and the response is expected to be instantaneous. The gift will probably take the form of diamonds, likely strung into a necklace. A gift similar to this was presented to Mrs. Roosevelt by her women friends when she left the White House four years ago.

TO IGNORE SUPERSTITION AND SAIL ON FRIDAYS

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The traditional superstition about starting an ocean voyage on Friday is to be broken by one of the trans-Atlantic lines here for the first time. Beginning April 4, the steamers Philadelphia, St. Louis, New York and St. Paul of the American line will sail on Friday morning instead of on Saturday, as is the present.

KING HOLDS FIRST BIG RECEPTION OF SEASON

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The first levee of the season was held by King George at Buckingham Palace today. Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, presented the members of the staff of the United States Embassy to His Majesty. Dr. F. S. Pearson, president of the Mexico Northwestern Railway company, was also presented.

SCHOOL DISTRICT IS IN TURMOIL

Storm Rages About Miss Baxley, Teacher; Board of Education Hears Trouble.

Despite a large delegation of Fruitvale residents, come to argue pro and con the case of Miss Alice V. Baxley, transferred from Fruitvale school No. 3 on account of faculty trouble, the board of education took no action in the matter last night, adjourning until tomorrow afternoon in respect to the memory of the late R. B. S. York, deputy superintendent of schools and secretary of the board, who died Saturday night.

Two factions of warring neighbors, fighting over the Baxley case, were present to make their complaints. Miss Baxley herself was there, and declares that she will appeal to the board before the case is finally disposed of. Miss Baxley says she will fight her enemies in the neighborhood, and demands a hearing. She is backed by a large delegation.

The principal cause of trouble is the alleged indignities suffered by small boys at the hands of the larger, and this Miss Baxley is declared to have ignored. Parents of the small boys told stories of these happenings by their children, demanding that Miss Baxley look into the matter or that a man able to cope with the situation, be placed in the school and Miss Baxley, holding that it is not a woman's place to look into affairs of the nature alleged, refuses to act. The parents of the larger boys, who deny the stories told by the smaller ones, uphold the teacher.

"I will fight this case and insist that my side be heard," declared Miss Baxley last night. "I think after the board has heard my side it will uphold me."

"The efficiency of the school is all I care about," said Superintendent McClellan. "If there is no harmony there she can take some other school. I do not care about the right and wrong of the teachers' personal affairs, but I insist on harmony and efficiency."

The board will probably hear Miss Baxley and her friends tomorrow night. In the meantime the order of the school superintendent is in force.

WOMAN LEAVES FORTUNE TO FORMER SWEETHEART

FRESNO, Feb. 4.—Robert E. Grady, formerly president of the Merced County Bank and now a resident of Pennsylvania, is given the greater portion of an estate valued at $100,000 by the will of Mrs. Sarah J. Thursty, who recently died in Merced. Thursty, who had recently died in Merced, left a blood relative. Grady is said to have been an old sweetheart of Mrs. Thursty. The bequest includes a number of fine reservoir sites in the Sierra Nevada mountains. Other bequests include $10,000 to the Children's Hospital of San Francisco and $10,000 to the Merced Public Library.

GERMAN PHYSICIAN TO CARE FOR CROWN PRINCE

WURZBURG, Germany, Feb. 4.—The General Anzeiger says that Dr. Eugen Enderlen, professor of surgery at the University of Wurzburg, has been called to St. Petersburg at the request of the emperor, upon the advice of the physicians attending Crown Prince Alexis. Dr. Enderlen will spend three or four weeks observing the case.

EXPLOSION WRECKS BIG BUILDING IN OREGON

MARSHFIELD, Or., Feb. 4.—A mysterious explosion wrecked the Donaldson building here yesterday. Mrs. F. W. Bertram was perhaps fatally burned and her little son seriously injured. Several retail firms were burned out, although the bulk of their stocks were saved. The property loss was $40,000, covered by insurance.

ENTRIES SIGNED FOR COAST TOUR

Proposed Tour From Hoosier City to Oakland Gains in Popularity.

(By EDMUND CRINNION.)

J. I. Handley, president of the Marlon Motor Car Company and of the American Motors Company, today made the first entry of a complete team of three cars for the big Indiana tour to the Pacific Coast next summer.

This entry of Handley is the third manufacturer's entry since the lists were opened, the others being two American Underlings touring cars entered by D. S. Menasco, vice-president of the American Motors Company, and two Henderson touring cars, entered by R. E. Henderson, vice-president of the Henderson Motor Car Company. Harry Stutz has today asked for entry blanks for two Stutz touring cars.

Handley has recently returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast, and his action in entering a full team of cars is a result of the enthusiasm which he found in the West for the coming caravan of Hoosier motorists. In regard to his entry, Mr. Handley said:

"I am heartily in favor of the Indiana tour to the Coast, because I know the great amount of interest which it is arousing and will continue to arouse in the entire country as well as in the territory through which it will pass."

HOWARD GOES EAST.

C. S. Howard, head of the Howard Automobile Company, Pacific Coast distributors of the Buick and National cars, left for Chicago yesterday morning. Howard will spend several days at the Chicago motor car show. From Chicago Howard will go direct to the Buick factory at Flint, Michigan. While there he will inspect the new four-cylinder Buick truck, which the Buick company recently announced. The latest creation of the Buick factory is a one-ton truck. The engine is of the long-stroke type and is cast in one piece. It is driven from the left side. The truck is to be built on two different size chassis, one of 100-inches wheel base and one of 120-inch wheel base. Howard says that while the factory has not yet given him the promise of the date of shipment, he is going to use every effort to at least get a demonstrator started West while he is in Flint. He will also take the matter of a second 1913 special trainload of Buick cars with the factory and see if it is possible for them to get out a solid trainload of more than 375 Buicks to beat the record which he established last month.

DEFEATS TRAIN AGAIN.

A motorcycle has just won another victory over a train in Lyons, Kas. Express riders after loading several express packages on the train, Agent Smith discovered that he had overlooked giving the baggage man the necessary waybills. He immediately mounted his motorcycle and started for Saxman, nine miles distant, which was the next stop for the express. When the train pulled into the station, Smith was there waiting with the papers. ALAMEDA COUNTY REGISTRATIONS.

STRIKING LABORERS ATTACK THEIR FOREMAN

PLACERVILLE, Feb. 4.—A gang of striking track laborers attacked Foreman James Cosgrove in the Southern Pacific yards yesterday because he ordered them to leave a car in which they had taken refuge. They threw stones at him and attempted to kill him with iron bars, and sent several bullets after him. He fired his pistol into the ground and was struck down and beaten severely. Deputy Sheriff Dormand was attracted to the scene by the fusillade and jailed five of the ringleaders.

Are Your Expenses Too Large?

People often say: "I don't seem to be able to save; I don't know where the money goes but at the end of each month I have nothing left."

The key to the situation is in the phrase, "I don't know where the money goes." If a business house conducted its affairs on that basis, it would be on the direct road to failure; and every family should keep an accurate record of all money received and expended.

We have prepared a "Savings System" expense book which will meet the book-keeping needs of every household. Write or call for a copy—whether you are a customer of the Bank or not.

'WHAT IS BEER?' ASKS UNCLE SAM

Will of James Bartlett Hammond Will Aid the Institution.

Not That He Doesn't Know, But Some of the Amber Isn't.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The estate of James Bartlett Hammond, typewriter manufacturer, estimated at $2,000,000, which is left by his will without restriction to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, raises the total of large bequests to the museum within recent years to more than $12,000,000. Other recent gifts have been $1,000,000 by Jacob S. Rogers; $250,000 by John S. Kennedy; $1,500,000 by Frederick C. Hewitt; $1,000,000 by Francis L. Leland, and $500,000 by Joseph Pulitzer.

According to F. H. Davidson, director's assistant, the Metropolitan has become the richest museum in the world. The available purchasing fund is approximately $800,000 a year, enabling the museum to progress much faster at present, he declared, than any of the museums abroad.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—What is "beer?" is the question put directly to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia by the government in asking a libel against the product of a local brewery. It was declared today that a government victory in the case would affect brewers the country over and would bring about the confiscation of products with a value running into the millions.

"The suit, which was instituted at the request of the pure food and drug board of the Department of Agriculture, alleged that the product was misbranded, in that it was labeled "malt" and "hop brew," with representation of medals of award for its "purity and excellence."

The government charges that the beverage is not an exclusive malt and hop brew, but "is a product in which sugar or cereal has been substituted wholly and in part for the malt."

BORROWED MATCHES, IS ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—A box of matches borrowed a few moments before the attempted commission of a burglary was the clue which led to the arrest of Harry Ellsworth, a bartender, at an early hour this morning by Patrolman Lewis of the Central station. The officer was trying doors along his beat when he discovered a window broken in the Union Square store, 318 Post street. He started an investigation and was informed by Sam Sherman, the porter of the Union Square Hotel, near by, that a man had borrowed some matches a short time before. Together with Sherman, Patrolman Lewis began a search of the neighborhood and the porter pointed out Ellsworth. The padlock of the fur store, which had been thrown away, was recovered, and Ellsworth was charged at the city prison with attempted burglary.

As a result of the strike the supply of gas was exhausted, and at noon Fresno housewives were unable to cook their meals. Shortly after the noon hour an agreement was reached between the strikers and Manager M. L. Neeley and the men returned to work. The four discharged men were reinstated.

JOHNSON MEMENTO RECALLS CHILDHOOD

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—The cherry tree some time connected with the early boyhood of George Washington, brought itself up to date yesterday in its presentation to Governor Hiram Johnson of a cherrywood cane. The head and spreading horns of a bull moose form the handle of the stick, which was made from a tree under which the Governor used to play as a boy.

The tree was cut down in making improvements, and A. E. Davidson, a Sacramento carpenter, carved the stick and presented it to the Governor. It has a place in his private office.
